

EXPLANATIONS:

These Pedigrees have been compiled but not proven. The Edmund Hobart ancestral record in the Archives of the Salt Lake Library is wrong. There is much question about the Warren and Standish surname lines, as indicated by a ? mark.

These Pedigrees are continued in another book: "The Ancestries of the Magna Charta Sureties and of Edward III of England". There is more information about individuals in a Personal History book.

"F G" stamped above a name indicates that I have a family group sheet for that person.

A red dash "---" indicates that name is out of alphabetical order.

The Hobart, Lyon, and other questionable pedigrees are included for future research purposes. Family group sheets are continually disappearing from the Archives and might not be available when needed.
