First Golden Gleaner For Kolob Stake Attains Rank

By EVELYN BOYER

SPRINGVILLE — Miss Barbara Hall, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theron S. Hall of Springville, has attained the honored rank of a Golden Gleaner, the first in Kolob Stake for this year.

The rank of Golden Gleaner for young women and the similar award of Master M Man for young men, offers an ultimate goal in achievement to the boys and girls of MIA in the LDS Church, for its requirements include the building of character through personal development and service to God and fellow man over a period of years.

A senior student of BYU, Miss Hall will graduate in June with a major in elementary education and a minor in geography, and plans to take up a teaching profession next fall.

A graduate of Springville High School and Seminary, Miss Hall has filled an LDS mission in California. She keeps a personal journal which reveals that, among her many activities, she taught a Sunday School class for two years, was Sunday School organist for a year, was secretary for the YWMIA for two years, is now a choral director in the MIA, has arranged a number of fireside chats for her classmates, has given a book review, was an active member in a chorus for two years, wrote a poem that was used in MIA, is frequently called on to give talks for various occasions, has tried her skill at painting pictures in water color, has taken part in two roadshows, and, with a flair for interior decorating, has redecorated a room. She has been a Gleaner for three years.

For the incentive to achieve she credits her parents and her six, equally active brothers and sisters, for together they enjoy a happy home life, full of activity and service to one another with high ideals and lots of encouragement from Mother and Dad.

BARBARA HALL

What it means to teach the first time.

This year will be a test and a challenge. A test in that I will be putting in to practice what I have learned during four years of college preparation. A challenge because it will be a new and different experience in many respects.

I am looking forward to the beginning of school with anticipation and yet with a natural anxiety; wondering whether I can accomplish all that I should and want to.

I have planned all my life to teach school and now that this goal has been achieved I pray that with the cooperation of the parents and students and the help of the Lord that I may aid these boys and girls to develop and improve during the next nine months.

Come to M.I.A.

When you're all alone and blue
And you want to stay away,
We will say this much to you,
"You should come to M.I.A."

There will be your friends to meet
And to neighbors you may say,
"It's so nice that you can greet
Everyone at M.I.A."

When you feel so old and tired
'Cause you've had to work all day,
Why wait years 'till you're retired?
Come on now to M.I.A.

When your lessons are not finished
And you know they're due next day,
Put forth effort undiminished
Then come out to M.I.A.

When the boys are outside playing
And their mothers call to say,
"It's now time that we were leaving,"
They will go to M.I.A.

If the girls must leave the dishes
Until nine or the next day,
It's no problem, if their wishes
Are to go to M.I.A.

If to see the show's your yen
And it's playing still on Tuesday,
We hope that you'll wait 'til then
And still come to M.I.A.

You will find that it's relaxing
After all your work today.
This is all that we are asking,
"Won't you come to M.I.A.?"
